Direc or-General Kimball in a most Direc or General Kimball in a most interesting interview in another column says that the managers of the exposition and the people of Atlanta have only one more problem to solve before a brilliant success is assured. We grant him that there is but one problem left—but that one is more essential than all the rest put together. It is the one thing without which success is impossible. The exhibition will surpass expectation—the crowd will be enormous—the buildings better than hoped for, but if the crowd is not entertained properly the exposition and the exposition and the properly the exposition and th better than hoped for, but if the crowd is not entertained properly the exposition will be worse than a failure.

Cuthbert, July 1—Yesterday morning about 7 o'clock a fire was discovered in the Grange male and female school building. It is, at present, unoccupied, and it is rumored that it was set on fire. It will be remembered that during the last congressional election a five building belonging to the Southwest Georgia agricultural college was burned—evidently the work of an incendiary. The fire on yesterday was first discovered in a room in the second story. The coon was locked, and in the room was found a considerable quantity of rags and paper saturated with kerosene oil. But little damage was done. The fire engine was quickly on hand and extinguished the flamer. It is reported that the building is insured for $2.500.——Bandolph county fair will be held on July 5th and 6th. On siderable preparation is being made, and a good time expected—The drought will male the farm products scarce. The recent rains have revived the hopes of the farmers, and crops have improved a great deal.

NEWNAN, July 2—The meeting called for the purpose of appointing delegates to the temperance convention to be held in Atlanta on the 4th instant, met in the court house and organized by calling N. B. Glover to the chair and requesting W. A. Turner to act as secretary, when U. B. Wilkinson, W. A. Turner, Benjamin Stigh, W. F. S. Powell, N. B. Glover, A. D. Freeman, and others, were appointed as delegates to represent Coweta county in eaid convention, with power to appoint others—During College Femple commencement Newnan has seen the gayest time for years. There are now about fifty visiting young ladies here. Misses Holmes and R. ss., two of Rome's most accomplished young ladies, are visiting Mrs. J. T. Carpenter, and Miss Irwin, of Augusta, is visiting Mrs. D. Walker.—If Arianta can't accommodate the exposition visitors, run a train down here night and morning, and we will take care of dive hundred.

ATHENS July 1—Mr. J. I. Colt, a relative of Mrs. Dr. Smith, of this city, dropped dead in the road. He resides a few miles from Athens—The question of a street railroad is being agitated—All the money needed for repairing the First Methodist church has been sub cribed, so now we may soou expect to see a handsome building replace the unsightly old one—Four lots contaming each one-third sore will be sold off the old academy lot in this city. They will make desirable building lots for residence—After July 4th the time table of the N Frailroad will be changed, and only one train leave on Monday, and that one body hurt on our side. I thought it would have been a big thing as Atlanta seems to have got it up, but we had a heap bigger one at Rome some years ago, and there wasent very much fuss made over it. The conjunction of planets has passed away, and we havent experienced anything extraor dinary as yet. Old Mother Shipton's time for the world to bust up has to be postponed indefinitely, and all the scientific predictions about storms, and drought, and bistering heat have so far failed, and to I reckon we can all go along as usual and let the tering heat have so far failed, and so I reckon we can all go along as usual and let the old world and the moon, and the stars take care of themselves. Some folks are always on the lookout for a big thing to happen, and are ready to believe most anything that any old woman says. I remember when all New Eagland was in a commotion about the coming of the son of man, and be was to trops, but made up their ascension robes, and some of the robes had tails as long as

There was over fifty thousand of these believers in Miller's prophecy, beside the children, who all had to be washed and dressed for the GRIFFIN, July 1.—The opera house was again overflowing last night with an audience gathered to witness the closing exercises of Miss Porter's high school. The programme was varied and highly interesting. The prize for proficiency in music was awarded to Miss Maggie Thompson in a neat speech by Mr. Lloyd Cleveland.

another day for the ascension, and about haif of 'em got ready again, and then he kept on fixing days until he played out, and the fine robes were cut up and made into night gowns and shirts, and Miller had to die like other people before he could as-ond at all. My Good Woman, Why are you so out of sorts, never able to tell folks that you are well? Ten to one it's caused in the first place by habitual constipation, which no doubt finally caused deranged kidneys and liver. The sure cure for constipation is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is also a specific remedy for all kidney and liver diseases. Thousands are cured by it every month.

A FARMER'S FORTUNE.

an Investment of Five Dollars by : Lucky Young Tennessean.

The luckiest man in Tennessee, and, probably the happiest individual at present in that state, is Alexander McCrosky, a young farmer residing near Somerville; for he has been greatly favored by fortune, and suddenly elevated from moderate circumstances to affluence.

About three week's ago Mr. McCrosky sent to the office of the Louisiana State Lottery company in New Ocleans for half a toket in the grand drawing, which took place June 14th. In due time he received the ticket, and last Thursday discovered to his great joy that he had won $50,000, half of the first capital prize of $100,000 in last Tuesday's drawing

One can imagine the sensation created in McCrosky's neighborhood by the announcement of this exciting fact, which so well illustrated the saying that it is the unexpected which happens and outgrew it and we never noticed it un-til a few days ago, and it was a sickly sight and so all hands have had to work early and late, wet or dry, hot or cold, and I'm about used up and have sworn off, for I never will chop cotton again as long as I live where the cotton is one foot high and the grass two, and rag weeds and bull nettles and tread safts and Gimpson weeds and pursely all mixed in promiscuous. But its all done now and can take a new start, and if justice is done that cotton ought to bring 50 cents a pound, considering the feelings it has lacerated. a pound, considering the feelings it has lacerated.

We have had a day's frolic with the thresher and my boys are satisfied. They made sixteen bushels of Dallas wheat to the acre and eight bushels of the common kind and they made 35 bushels of rist proof oats to the acre which were sowed the last of February and it did seem to me there were more oats and less straw than I ever saw in my life for the spring drought caught them and they dident grow much higher than your knee. I've got a hundred bushels of Dallas wheat to spare and have about male up my mind to give it to dudge Henderson to distribute to the farmers in the same way that General Toombs give his saway last year. He gave it to the judge on condition that the judge should give him $200 for it, which the judge should give him $200 for it, which the judge should give him selling mine to my nabors at two dollars, but they are poor and the state is rich add will have to pay more if she gets it. I be lieve in getting the best seed for everything I sent to Tennessee for seed corn and till growing so big in the creek bottom we are getting alarmed tor fear the ground worth hold it. Some of it is 12 feet high now and nary tassel in sight. It was planted the last week in April—and from them untit the 4th day of June we have been plauting corn and it all looks well. I reckon the prophetic drouth wonthit all of it. As the 4th day of June we have been planting corn and it all looks well. I reckon the prophetic drouth wonthit all of it. As soon as we cut our osts we put four plows to sowing the same land in peas, clay peas that didentified into the speculators' corner and they will soon cover the ground and enrich it, and the morning glory vines are taking care of the corn land and the rag weed and orab grass is covering the wheat land, and thais the way to preserve it in my opinion. Take care of the city and we will take care of the city and we will take care of the city and we will take care of the country if work will do it. You make money easy and we make it hard, but one of our dollars is worth two of yours. Yours,

"In this way. We will have a good man at the head of this department. He will have the proper clerical force, and will manage the whole thing. Let us take an example. Say that Mr. John Smith—to invent a name—has a home at 9.0 Peschtree, and has two spare rooms. He registers these rooms, with his addiess, in the book, with the statement that they will be vacant from October 5th to December 3ist. A gentleman—say Mr. Jones—from Milwaukee, for instance, then writes to engage two rooms for bimself, wife and two daughters from opening day for one week. The clerk turns to the book marks opposite Mr.Smits's registry, 'taken from October 5th to October 12th by Mr. Jones, of Milwaukee." He then writes Mr. Jones that rooms are engaged at a private house at three dollars a day for each person, and house at three dollars a day for each person, and pon receipt of eighty-four dollars, which is e dollars a day for four people for seven days, a paid coupon with directions and receipt ney. The Rolling Mill.

Yeslerday afternoon some of the men ecently employed at the rolling mill gave HE CONSTITUTION a statement of their side tate in any way to the rognagement of the mill.

They say they stopped work because they were to thaid as the receiver promised that they should be paid, and declare that he has never tendered employment to the men who stopped work on that account. Some few were asked to work again but most of them were excluded from the mill. They also impostically deny the statement that the present employ is of the mill do as much or as good work as the former hands did. They are nerves who do not under stand anything but the commonant work in the mill They also charge that the present management of the mill has not treated them justly, and has misrepre sented their position in the first the public.

These views are expressed by men representing and speaking for the former employes of the mill, and we give them as such. The men propose to give a fuller statement to the public soon.

A Shooting Affray Last Night

In Priday's Construction were several inquisites with which the conditions when a construction would be done to entertain the crowds that the exposition be done to entertain the crowds that the exposition would be done to entertain the crowds that the exposition when a clossfriction would be done to entertain the crowds that the exposition man called on him. Instable a failure of the police quieted.

It is answer to the questions when a Construction man called on him. Instable a few mutes from the continual main of burness in which he is kept, he said:

"The whole unit of the thing is this: I have a plan matured even to detal"s. If the committee will indorse this plan, and the people will act up to it, we will score a big victory and everybody will go off pleased if implant is not carried out—unless some other plans is devised—we shall be overwhelmed with disaster. The only problem now left to be selved in the rest a success the exposition will be a failure if this one thing is a failure."

"In general terms the plans with which the public is concerned is this: The private citizens must throw open their houses, without except ion, from the richest to the poorest. This is absolutely necessary. If this is done, there is not the slight ext trouble. Every house should be registered, and the number of rooms that can be spared put down."

"Do you think this plan two reverywhere, Of course there are many gentlemen who distike the idea of charging board by the day for their guests, but they seem willing to forego their sensitivenes for the honor of Atlanta. It is just this—it must be done—and done by all or we are absolutely certain to fail.

"What shout a new hotel?"

"What shout a new hotel?"

"I think we will be compelled to have a new hotel though I think a temporary hotel will do indeed, we had better have 500 rooms put up for tempo ary use, than to have 75 built for permanent use. With the citizens unanimous on the plan suggested above, and a new hotel of 500 rooms, I should then feel that we were beginning to see daylight in regard to apperfaining the crowd. I feel sure that both will be done. Our office for the registry of honses will be opened probably next week."
